BIA Honors Building Excellence & Spring Home Show Award Winners

$4,059 donated to The Parks Foundation from NW Natural Chef, Hop & Vine ticket proceeds

Vancouver, Wash – (August 17, 2018) – Last evening the Building Industry Association of Clark County (BIA) recognized sixteen (16) member companies with Building Excellence Awards for outstanding projects completed between July 2017 and June 2018.

Entries for the Building Excellence Awards are judged on quality craftsmanship, unique design features, company safety record, usage of BIA subcontractors & suppliers and completion of project on time and on budget.

“The Building Excellence Awards program recognizes outstanding work by BIA members in residential new construction and remodeling. It’s rewarding to see so many noteworthy projects in all price ranges across SW Washington,” shares BIA Executive Director Avaly Scarpelli. “We are pleased to expand the awards program this year to include an NGBS award honoring a member who is building voluntarily to the National Green Building Standard.”

A portion of the ticket proceeds from the May 30 NW Natural Chef, Hop & Vine tour were donated to The Parks Foundation of Clark County. Executive Director Dianna Kretzschmar accepted a check for $4,059 on behalf of the charity last night.

"The Parks Foundation is so grateful to have community partners like the BIA support our work in Clark County," shares Executive Director Dianna Kretzschmar. "The Parks Foundation's mission is to raise funds through public and private partnerships in support of the parks, trails, and recreational programs in Clark County, all of which provide tremendous benefits to the neighborhoods of SW Washington."

"Not every aspect of a park system can be quantified. For instance, you may not be able to precisely measure the health value of a walk in the woods, but there are measurable factors that attract new people to our communities and quality green space is one of them. We're so excited about the work we do, and we appreciate the BIA for investing in our mission!"
