BIA Announces People’s Choice Awards for the 2018 NW Natural Parade of Homes

Vancouver, Wash – (October 22, 2018) – Last Thursday the Building Industry Association of Clark County (BIA) awarded the coveted People’s Choice prizes that were voted on by many of the 17,000 attendees at this year’s NW Natural Parade of Homes. Ten stunning and unique properties were highlighted at The Parklands at Camas Meadows during this 13-day event in September.

“This year’s show was such a success thanks to an amazing collaboration between the developers of the property, our member builders and the BIA,” shared event chairman Tony Curtis. “The homes certainly showcased the depth of craftsmanship and style you can find here in Southwest Washington. I think people still don’t equate Clark County with high-end custom homes and this event certainly showed off that we do have a lot to offer in this category. The diversity of home styles and design on display was just fantastic.”

The winners of 2018 People’s Choice awards are:

Best Kitchen: Doriot Construction “The Timberline”

Best Master Suite: Doriot Construction “The Timberline”

Best Entertainment Room: Generation Homes Northwest “The Madison”

Best Landscaping: Gecho Homes “The Maldivian”

Best Interior Decorating: Cascade West Development “The Cadence”

Best Architecture: Doriot Construction “The Timberline”

Best Floor Plan: Generation Homes Northwest “The Madison”

Outdoor Living: Generation Homes Northwest “The Madison”

Best of Show: Doriot Construction “The Timberline”

The 2019 NW Natural Parade of Homes is scheduled for July 12 – 28 at Dawson’s Ridge in Camas.
